1. COMMUNITY OF PRACTICE

Our Collective is integrated by forward-thinking digital inclusion advocates actively working on social and economic integration of vulnerable individuals in Europe.

The purpose of the CoP is to create a space to share, align and collaborate all together to tackle the growing digital skills gap.
More specifically, the Collective aims to:

› Raise awareness about digital inclusion topics
› Foster collaboration
› Promote knowledge-sharing
› Drive policy influence on digital inclusion

From DigiCo, we enable collaboration and synergies through different partnership possibilities by:

› Catalyzing our partners' programs by broadcasting their initiatives,
› Providing grants to training programs on basic digital skills for vulnerable individuals,
› Giving access to tech-enabled solutions.

2. PARTNERSHIP STRUCTURE

When a person becomes a member of our Digital Inclusion Collective, we establish a commitment with them and their organisation to work for a common goal: the social and economic integration of vulnerable individuals in Europe through basic digital skills training.

We know there are many ways to achieve this and that each partner has different interests and availability when it comes to collective collaboration.

For this reason, our partnership scheme has been designed with different options and levels of engagement to better fit our members:

02. KNOWLEDGE PARTNER

01. IMPACT PARTNER

Project-based training providers around Europe actively working on the digital inclusion of vulnerable individuals are the perfect fit for this kind of collaboration.
Member organisations collaborating under this scheme can engage through different degrees according to their interest and profile.

1° COMMUNICATION

This level adjusts to one of our main goal as a digital inclusion Community: the awareness raising and the broadcasting or initiatives that tackle the digital skills gap. Our Collective shares relevant information on the subject to assure we stay updated on research, publications, policy news and other relevant content and opportunities.
We boost, as well, our communities projects and initiatives through our channels to assure visibility and provide limited translation asistance to English for those who need to extend their national audience.

2° PRODUCT DEGREE

Training providers working in digital skills need tools to assess and keep track of their student's progress. For this reason, DigiCo has developed Skillify, an assessment tool to better understand the level of digital skills, accessible in six languages.
Skillify is available for free to anyone who wants to use it. However, training providers can establish a Product Partnership with Digico to have a personalised access to the platform. They can use Skillify for a systematic assessment of their students' digital skills, through a customised back end to track and manage students' individual and aggregated results. In addition, we work with our partners to fully translate the platform to their language.

3° GRANT DEGREE

As a catalyst of social impact, Digico provides funding to eligible projects that train low skilled vulnerable individuals on basic digital competences. These trainings need to specifically target marginalised groups who have low to no digital skills, and who have little access to training opportunities. The trainings also need to have an employment component, helping students to access more job opportunities. Through this grant scheme, Digico supports organisations in scaling up their social impact. can partner.

02. KNOWLEDGE PARTNER

Partnering for sustained impact is not only about sharing expertise, but making knowledge and information available to the whole community. Organisations actively generating content and discussion around digital inclusion, digital education, skills development, among other relevant topics, can partner up with DigiCo and give visibility to their work inside our Collective.

03. NETWORK PARTNER

When we work towards a common goal, the bigger the network, the stronger the results. Organisations at different levels that share a common core purpose, approach, and commitment with our Collective can partner up with us to mutually expand and enhance our communities.
